Fall Flurry of Activity Tolls the End of Racing Season

The 2015 Race Season is starting to wind down but it might be hard to tell with the recent flurry of activity. Fall is in the air however, for the die hard fans, there are still a few races to go before the cars are tucked away for the winter.

Our marine clients are taking advantage of the last temperate days on the water and our agricultural clients are bringing in the fall harvest.

Fall is also the time for PERA's 70th Annual Conference in Nashville. The conference was filled with excellent speakers, great information and fun tours for the spouses. It was a perfect opportunity to meet new people and to reconnect with old friends.

Milestone would like to thank QualCast for their kind southern hospitality at PERA on the General Jackson, the only riverboat left in the USA that is powered by a paddle.

Matt with Milestone and Ron with Diamond Pistons made their annual run through the northern states. One stop was at JPW where the duo made a presentation to their staff.

But wait! There's more!

Milestones in Racing

Can you imagine racing without power steering? Turning the steering wheel on the curves is easy thanks to Francis Davis' patent in 1926.

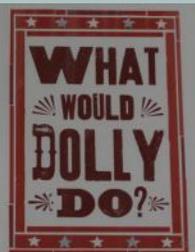

Many engineers attempted to reduce friction in the steering wheel but it gave rise to excessive vibration. Davis was convinced that a hydraulic system was the answer.

The depression meant that few car manufacturers were interested so it wasn't until 1951 that Chrysler became the first OEM to introduce a hydraulic power steering system on its Imperial sedan.

Boone Speedway IMCA Supernationals

What a great time at the Boone Speedway! It boasts one of the most fan friendly pit areas of any dirt track in the United States, with half of the race track lined with catwalks. It is fun to watch the water trucks followed by the tractors and school buses that pack down the track.

Motorsports Warehouse Open House

The Motorsports Warehouse Open House was well attended and it was great to see Milestone manufacturers' products featured prominently on their shelves. Far right: Matt with Brent the owner.

The Lighter Side

Overheard at the race track: "My greatest fear is that when I die, my wife will sell all my car parts for what I told her they cost."

A teenage boy tells his father, "Dad, there's trouble with the car, it has water in the carburetor." The father looks confused and says, "You don't even know what a carburetor is but I will check it out. Where is the car?"

"In the pool," replies the son.

My friend said, "Money can't buy happiness." I said: "But it can buy a race car. Have you ever seen anyone sad in a race car?"
